Secretary of Treasury Goes Before Committee Considering Soldier Bonus.

OPPOSES NEW BURDENS

Washington, Dec. 23 .- A gross deciency in national fiscal transactions of $2,100,000,000 this fiscal and $1,500,-000,000 for the next fiscal years was forecast today by Secretary Houston In testimony before the senate finance committee, which is considering the oldier bonus bill.

The secretary said federal finances ere in such shape that new sources of revenue must be found and no new burdens added to the breasury.

Considered aside from the public lebt, Mr. Houston said, the ordinary receipts for this year should exceed or dinarily expenditures by about $500,600,000, and next year the excess should be $550,000,000. These sums, however, are inadequate to take care of the interest on the public debt,
which is about $1,200,000 annually, Mr.
Houston said, as well as the interest on the current floating debt and the total laid aside annually for retiring the public debt.

TAXES RUN INTO MILLIONS REVENUES FROM INCOME

Washington, Dec. 23.—Revenues from income and excess profits taxes paid to collectors of internal revenue on Dec. 16, representing the fourth installment for the year, will exceed $350,000,000 and probably will go as high as $700,000,000, the internal revenue bureau was informed today in advices from collectors. Revenue Commissioner Williams stated today that this is a splendid showing and refutes the impression that any considerable number of individuals were unable to meet their payments. A tabulation will be prepared in a few days when revised reports are received from collectors, showing the returns by states.

PROPOSES WOOL-PAVED

ROADS FOR COLORADO

Denver, Colo., Dec. 23.—Wool paved roads for Colorado highway, because of the low prices of that product is the recommendation of A. W. Rucker, former congressman and widely known sheep grower. Hucker told delegates to the Colorado Stock Growers' association, in assion here today, that he had asked for bids for the paving of a stretch of road near his Mount Mortison ranch with Wool.

"Wool is cheaper than most paving materials," Rucker said, "and better paving purposes than most concrete materials. Wool is next to gold in durability and does not succumb to wearing agencies. Moths are its only natural enemy.

CLEARING HOUSE REPORT

THE ONLY THING THAT COUNTS

(BY CAROLYN BEECHER.)

GHAPTER XL.

If love is a flame, self-reproach is a consuming fire. Helen Weatfield in these days of fear, of anxiety, constantly flayed herself, continually regretted. Added to her remorse was now also a feeling that she had not done right to allow kirk Lansing to learn to care for her.

I knew I never could be anything to him, knew it always, yet I let him go on, she mused.

She had read the unfinished note and had smilled with happiness, although her eyes had again misted and Kirk's large handkerchief had once more been used to tenderly wipe the tears away.

I am very selfish, Kirk, she said finally. I can't give you what you want, yet, noither gan I lose your friendship.

You aren't going to, dear, he answered. Then after half an hour he left her. The strain of seeing her weeping, his inability to help her because he didn't understand her trouble, made it almost impossible for him to linger. There was something in her lifte she considered an impediment to the marriage. That much he had deviced. But he thought of it with an indulgent smile. It was some foolish girl's escapade which probably-amounted to nothing. Some day she must confide in him.

Laning had been gone but a short of time when Adele came in. At once she detected the evidences of toars upon Helen's face and begged to knew of the could help, if anything had secured to cause unhappiness.

Helen answered irritably, then walked to the window and looked out upon the Square in the tickening dust.

"I was afraid something had have pened, Helen, you haven't been quit-yourself lately. Of course, I had no-own ideas about it," said Adele isugh-"What is it, dear—tell me," she begged instantly remorseful. She had pained Helen by her levity.

"There is a reason why i can't marry Kirk-or anyone, Adole, I omit to have told you long ago-but-I thought I-was stronger, that I never would care-never love anyone-so it wouldn't be necessary to tell anybodr-cvet."
